THE AMATEUR TRACK RIDER'S LOGBOOK

PITBOOK

Your lap times, your progress, your friends, your bike (or your car) and your budget, all in one place. Even in the paddock, with no signal.

1 photo
of your timesheet, and your laps are read

0 device
to buy: the organiser's timing is enough

Offline
everything works in the paddock, even with no signal

WHAT YOU GET

You see your progress
Your record on every circuit, and what you gain session after session.

You measure up
The friends' podium on every circuit, and championships when you race.

You're ready on the day
Your group and schedule in big type, the countdown, your checklist.

You know your machine
Bike or car: your vehicles, tyre sets and setup, logged by you.

You keep to your budget
Trackday prices, your costs, and your season total.

You get a showcase
Your rider page: perfs, trophies, socials, sponsors and teams.

YOUR FIRST TRACKDAY WITH PITBOOK

1. Before
Install the app, open it for a minute with a signal and add your next trackday.

2. In the morning
The race-day screen shows your group and your schedule.

3. After your sessions
Take a photo of the timesheet, and note your setup.

4. In the evening
Your day session by session, then the friends' podium.

WHY PITBOOK RATHER THAN ANOTHER APP?

Amateur track riders often juggle a spreadsheet, a group chat and a lap-timer app. Pitbook brings together what matters to improve from one trackday to the next.

	SPREADSHEET OR NOTEBOOK	GROUP CHAT	GPS LAP-TIMER APP	PITBOOK
Your lap times, no hardware	typed in again	photos everywhere	phone or device on the bike	✓ a photo of the timesheet
Your progress per circuit	if you write the formulas	—	✓	✓
The ranking among friends	—	done by hand	depends on the app	✓
Your group and schedule on the day	—	messages to dig out	—	✓
Setup, pressures, tyres	by hand	—	depends on the app	✓ tied to each session
Your season budget	by hand	—	—	✓

A GPS lap-timer gives you your lines and sectors: Pitbook doesn't replace it, it keeps everything else in one place.

WHAT PITBOOK DOESN'T DO

- ✕ No booking or payment: that stays with the organiser.
- ✕ No official timing: Pitbook reads the organiser's.
- ✕ No setup or pressure advice: you log your values, that's all.
- ✕ Your setup, pressures and budget: this data is private.

TRY IT

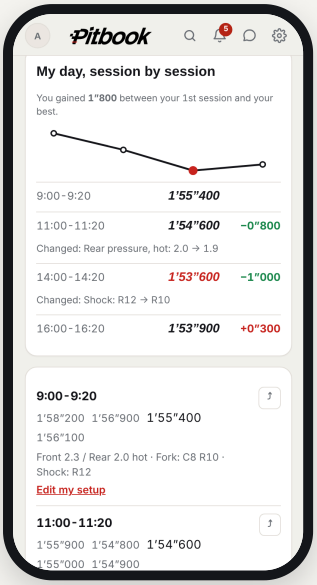

Open this link on your phone or computer:

pitbook.fr

1. iPhone: Safari, Share, “Add to Home Screen”.
2. Android: Chrome, menu ⋮, “Install app”.
3. Computer: the desktop version, same account.
4. Create your account, and you're set.

It's a prototype: tell me what helps and what's missing.

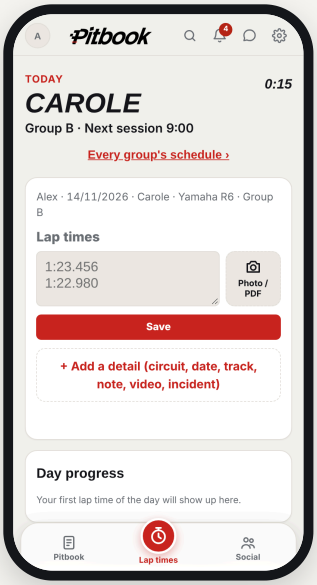

IN DETAIL

01
YOUR DAY, SESSION BY SESSION

After the trackday, take a photo of the timesheet: Pitbook reads your laps.

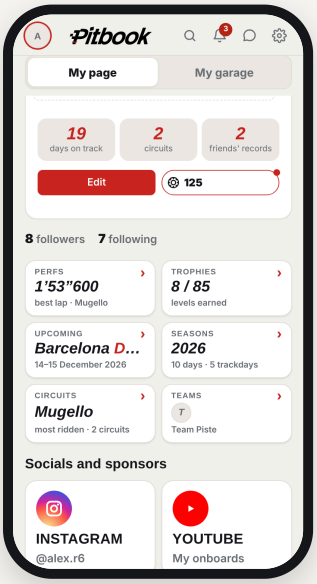

- ✓ Your best time and what you gained from one session to the next.
- ✓ What you changed on the bike between two sessions.
- ✓ A screenshot, the organiser's PDF, or several screenshots at once.

02
RACE DAY

On the morning of the trackday, the Lap times tab opens on what matters.

- ✓ Your group, your schedule and a countdown.
- ✓ Schedule missing? A photo of the paddock board is enough.
- ✓ The trackday in your calendar, in one tap.

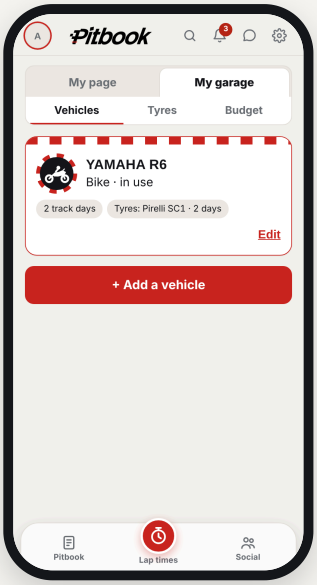

03
YOUR RIDER PAGE

Your showcase: tiles showing what matters, one tap for the detail.

- ✓ Perfs, trophies, seasons, circuits, teams: your records and your progress.
- ✓ Your socials and sponsors shown big, one tap to open them.
- ✓ Your posts below, each with its own audience.

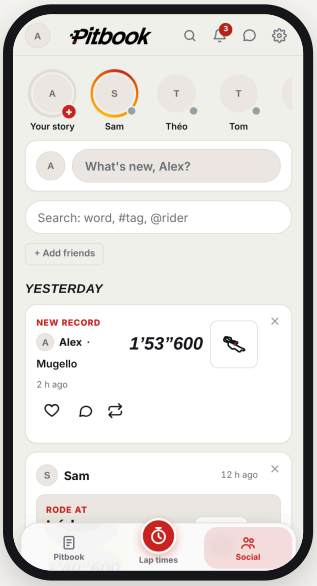

IN DETAIL

04
YOUR GARAGE

Your bike (or car), your tyres and your budget, in one place.

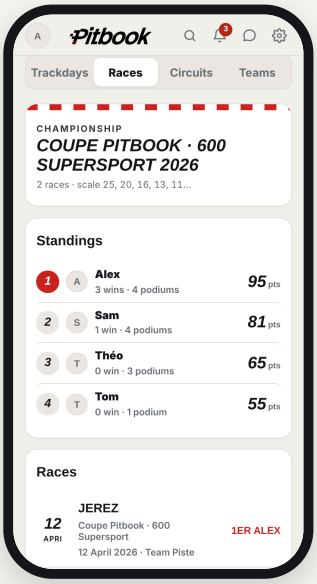

- ✓ Each vehicle as a paddock pass: track days, fitted tyres.
- ✓ Your tyre sets as gauges: days, sessions, laps, km.
- ✓ Your season budget, no spreadsheet. Pitbook never suggests pressures.

05
WITH YOUR FRIENDS

The paddock's Social: what your friends ride, and what they say about it.

- ✓ Trackday recaps, records, stories and photos.
- ✓ Search by word, #tag or @rider.
- ✓ Your teams: their news first, their trackdays, their members.

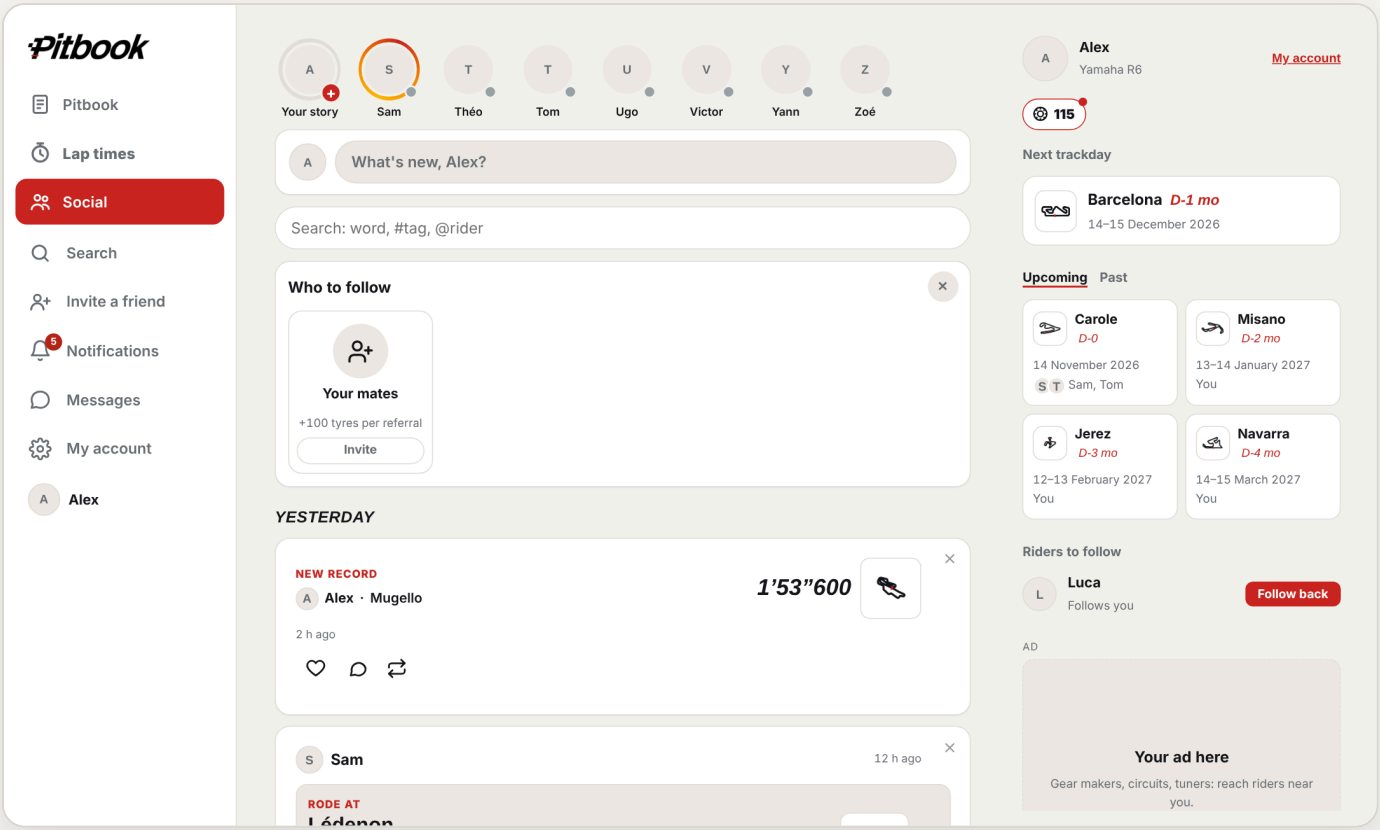

06
RACES AND CHAMPIONSHIPS

On a trackday you ride for yourself. A race is a competition over a weekend.

- ✓ The organiser posts the race, you enter in one tap.
- ✓ Qualifying, starting grid, results of each race.
- ✓ The championship adds up by itself (25, 20, 16...), with your podiums in your Perfs.

ALSO ON YOUR COMPUTER

Same link, same account: on a PC or a Mac, Pitbook opens full size, like a desktop social network.

- ✓ The same 3 tabs as on the phone, on the left: Pitbook, Lap times, Social.
- ✓ A reading column in the middle, no buttons stretched across the screen.
- ✓ On the right: your page, your next trackday with the countdown, riders to follow.
- ✓ Handy to import your season's screenshots, run a race, do your budget.